MEMORIAL DAY PLANS.

THE NATIONAL GUARD NOT ORDERED OUT.

GRAND ARMY MEN SURPRISED-SAILORS AND MARINES TO PARADE-A FULL PRO-

Detoration Day, which comes next Tuesday, will observed in many different ways. From a day originally set apart as one on which the graves of se who took part in the Civil War were to be of recreation and enjoyment. The Grand Army posts of this city will march down Fifth-ave., as they have for many years, on their way to the cemeteries, where appropriate exercises and ceremonies will follow For the first time since Decoration Day began to be so generally observed the posts will not be escorted by the National Guard troops of this city. The failure of the proper officials to order out the First General Fitzgerald declined to issue the customary order for the parade. Governor Flower, too, dis-Guard, as he can do it any time he pleases But the Governor will review the parade at the reviewing stand in front of the Worth monument, in Madison Square. The only National Guard organiza-tions that will be in line are the 69th Regiment; Troop A, and the 1st Battery. The places of the absent state troops will be taken, however, by satiors and nurines from the foreign cruisers that States erulsers, and several detachments of regulars.

The sailors and marines from the foreign ships will They will occupy a position in the line directly be Guard and the Guard of Honor are to act as the escort to Governor Flower, whom they will conduct from the Windsor Hotel to the reviewing stand. The Old Guard will be commanded by Major Thomas E.

the Guard of Honor. Colonel Loomis L. Langdon, commanding at Fort Hamilton, will command the United States troops in Memorial Day parade. He has appointed the following officers on his staff: Lieutenant C. H. Hunter, adjutant of 1st Artillery, acting assistant adjutant-general; Major J. Van R. Hoff, surgeon of division: First Lieutemant C. F. Parker, 24 Artiflers, aide-de-ramp. The United States troops will form as follows: Battalion of Engineers, on West Fifty seventh st., right resting on Flith-ave.; tallon of 1st Artillery, west of the Engineer Battalion. Battalions will be divided into companies of sixteen files front before taking position at the ren-dezvous. The battalion commanders will report in start being announced for 9 a. m. As a suggestive minding them of the uniform in which their valuable and memorable services were performed, blouses. forage caps and leggings will be worn, with black beit and cartridge boxes.

After the parade the naval and military forces will go to their headquarters, while the Grand Army posts will go to the various cemeteries to decorate the graves of their dead comrades. The members of U. S. Grant Post will go the total of General Gran in Riverside Park. After the tomb has been decorated With flowers and flags an address will be made by ex-Governor Joseph B. Foraker, of Ohio. Other posts will have services at the tembs of men who distinguished themselves during the war. The members Farnham Independent Veterans, No. 1, will go to Woodlawn Cemetery and decorate graves

The programme of sports for the day is a long one, and it includes all sorts of contests upon land art, the firefell of the freedlyn Jockey Club will be run at the Grayesend John Jargine, of Yonkers. the Brooklyn Jockey Club will be run at the Graveso track, and an important card of contests has been arranged for the day.

Over half a dozen yacht clubs will start the yachting season, some of them with races and others by formally opening their clabboness. Among these clabs are the American, the Brocklyn, the Harlem, the Hempstead Euy, the Atlantic, the Jersey City, the Newark and the Audubon.

The friends of baseball can go either to the Polo Grounds in this city, or to Eastern Park in Brooklyn, for the National League championship games. Two games will be played on each ground. The morning sames will begin at 10:30 o'clock and the afterneon games at 4 o'clock. Boat races, bleycle races, foot races and other athletic sports will be seen in dozens of places. The inual twenty-five-mile bleycle race from Irvington Milburn will be run for prizes worth all the way

One of the features of the day will be a relay foot race of ninety miles, from New-Haven to New-York, Christian Association. The members of W. S. Hancock Council will enjoy an excursion to lona company.

A BIGAMIST HUNTED DOWN

sabin, Minn., May 27.—By clever work in searching the pension files at Washington William McClory hasucceeded in capturing Samuel Stillwell, a Ber burg (N. Y.) bigamist. McClory traced Stillwell to this point, and came here on Saturday. Stillwell fled, bu was not successful in cluding his pursuer, who secured his arrest on the streets of Fargo, N. D., yesterday. McClory says he has been engaged in the chase of stillwell for five years. Stillwell married Mrs. Abble Coates at Bennettsburg, N. Y., in 1880, but soon tired of her and eloped with a neighbor's wife, the latter leaving a husband and three children.
